Please register and order by October 1, 2020 so kit arrives before class date. Deadline is extended to October 8 if you live in the Hampton, VA area.

We apologize for the late notice to register. Future online classes will have better advance registration, now that we have our online payment options in place.

No need to fear yo-yos anymore and no templates needed! We will diagnose problems that you have encountered in the past and get you to be a yo-yo king or queen by the end of the class. Additionally, you will learn traditional applique to attach the yo-yos to the background fabric, working with bamboo felt for the snowman's arms, buttons, hat, eyes and nose, and using perle cotton to do buttonhole, stem stitch, and French knots. This is a piece that anyone can successfully make for this winter season.

This class will be conducted virtually using Zoom. Class will start at 9 AM and work until noon. We can then take a break, have some lunch, and come back to finish up (or nearly finish) the project. After the break you may have more questions. We can even have a Show and Tell of your projects. It should be as fun as a VCQ meeting but without the hugs and group lunch.

If students wish, they can join a private Facebook group to continue interacting with Joy and other students. After class you can continue to ask questions and post photos of your partial and completed projects for Joy and other class members to view. Joining this group is optional and is offered at no additional cost.
